

The smartest girls are wearing...

by Nancy Dunaway

Whether your size has fluctuated over the long winter months, you've celebrated a "big" birthday, changed jobs, or just haven't purchased a new pair of shoes since the Clinton administration, there's no time like the present to clean out that closet and get real about the kind of style impression you're making—every where you go.

Betsy Tabatcher and Susan Luc, the stylish owners of Shop Your Closet, offer fashion-challenged women an opportunity to look like a million bucks and feel more confident about the way they look.

"I'm not good at choosing plantings for my landscape and many women feel the same way about clothing and accessories," smiles Susan. "One of our clients, Kathleen, went from a being an attorney and sporting business suits every day to being a stay-at-home mom. She needed help figuring out how to tote her baby around town and look put together, too. We pulled her suits apart and paired jackets with jeans and knit tops with trousers. The only item she needed purchase was a new pair of perfectly fitting jeans. The other treasures were already hanging in her closet."

"When you call us, we schedule a complimentary in-home consultation. At that time, we examine your closet and provide an estimate. If you would like to work with us, we schedule a time to come back with our wardrobe rack and choose which items to keep, and which to donate or send to the consignment shop," explains Betsy. "Most wardrobe makeovers take less than three hours and cost less than $200."

About a week later, Susan and Betsy return with a beautifully bound, full-color closet reference book featuring photos of suggested outfits and space for personal notes.

Susan and Betsy, together with more than 25 years of fashion experience, offer personal shopping, seminars, party events and creative fundraising, in addition to image consulting.
